"I started the WomenSpeak Project to research the challenges women face at various points in their life. After interviewing over 1200 women, we found that Timeless Women don't let age and circumstances define who they are or who they want to become. Instead, they use resources and connections with other women to take charge of their lives and create the best possible journey. Our mission is to get that message out to women of all ages..."

It reveals perspectives on anxieties by age group from Twenties Women to those in their Eighties. As an expert on women's issues, Dr. Nancy addresses questions like: Why do some women stay determined and empowered to make the best possible journey from beginning to end while others grow fearful as they age?

Recognition will also be given to the

Nomination forms must be
